

Press Release

Village of Warwick Sesquicentennial

Second Sunday Conversations

The Village of Warwick, the Albert Wisner Public Library and the Warwick Historical Society will be co-sponsoring a series of informational talks celebrating community history, mythology and more. The series will begin September 11th at 2 p.m. at the A.W. Buckbee Center with, “The Evolution of Education”. The speakers will include Dr. Richard Hull, Beverley Braxton, Ivy Tulin and Kevin McGovern with an introduction by School Superintendent, Dr. David Leach. The topic, “The Evolution of Education” will look at the development of our Public School System, its rich history and some future perspectives. Upcoming topics include, “Spirited Story Telling” with the Black Dirt Story Telling Guild of the Florida Public Library on October 9th and, “This Land is Farmland” with Al Buckbee and Steve Pennings on November 13th.

The series is inspired by the Fortnightly Club which was a group of local citizens who would gather twice a month to discuss topics as a form of entertainment. The club began in the late 1800’s and was active into the 20th century.

The Second Sunday Conversations will be held monthly and throughout the entire Sesquicentennial year of 2017. All are invited to this free event.
